

Snohomish County

4-H

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY
EXTENSION

Snohomish County

CloverGram

January 12, 2018

The News for Now:

Volunteer Trainings

Please note that there are NO 4-H volunteer education classes this weekend, Jan. 13th, as it is a holiday weekend.

If you signed up for any of the volunteer classes on February 10th, please be sure you can attend. Some of the classes are full, and others would like your spot if you can't be there.

<http://www.signupgenius.com/go/10c0d4caca62fa3f85-4hvolunteer8>

Next class date will be May 6th (Sunday) at the fairgrounds. Classes TBA.

Creative Arts Program Summit

Let's thank outgoing program leader Becky Springer for all of her work. We need to find a new program lead in order to continue our Creative Arts Program. We already have a volunteer to handle the financial aspects, now we need someone who is willing to organize workshops and communicate with the members, as well as work with the 4-H office. This is a beloved program that needs your help to continue - please RSVP to Phoebe Bachleda, 4-H Program Coordinator, bachleda@wsu.edu to let me know that you are coming next Tuesday evening, January 16th at 7pm. Please spread the word!

More Exciting News Coming Next Week

Tell me about your Day of Service,
Martin Luther King Jr. Day, Jan. 15th.