Many thanks to all who have claimed spots already!

New Stuff:

Youth for the Quality Care of Animals (YQCA)

YQCA, a national program for quality assurance in livestock production, is the current certification required in many counties and states. We expect this to become a state 4-H requirement in WA in the very near future. It is already required for most livestock shows.

Animals included: swine, beef cattle, sheep, poultry, dairy cattle, goats, market rabbits

Our quality assurance instructor, Beth Morrison, is now a certified trainer for YQCA and is offering three scheduled opportunities for all 4-H youth, though she is also open to invitations from clubs and programs for other appointments at their location.

- In-person training: $3
 - February 29th | 10 am – Noon Snohomish Library
 - April 11th | 9 am – Noon -- WSU Extension Center
 - June 27th | 9 am – Noon -- WSU Extension Center

How To Sign up for in-person training:

- visit <http://yqca.org>
- select [Sign In with 4-H Online]; select [Washington 4-H Youth Development]
- use your 4-HOnline login and password
- select your age group; select the correct date/class/Beth Morrison
- pay $3 via credit card or coupon code (Contact the 4-H office for financial assistance.)

Youth may also take the class entirely online for $12

4-H Volunteer Update!

There are two more opportunities to attend the annual Volunteer Update in PERSON! Required for all 4-H volunteers, you'll also have the option to watch online. In-person sessions:

- Friday, February 7th, 7 p.m., Cedarhome Baptist Church, Stanwood
- Saturday, February 8th, 3:00 p.m. at WSU Extension.
