Weekly Challenge!

While you're stuck at home, 4-H'ers are invited to participate in a new challenge each week. The first one is introduced by Ashley at <https://youtu.be/gYMJXAdU-s8> It's a LEGO Digital Designer tool for all ages!

Need someone to host a Zoom meeting, or just set up a link so you can meet for longer than 40 minutes? We're here for you! Tell us what you need in this form:

Got Unreported 4-H Volunteer Time?

Prize drawing coming soon! We do a random drawing each quarter for a fun 4-H prize! To be entered, you just need to have some volunteer time reported for the quarter. This is for certified 4-H volunteers only. You can report your own time here: <https://volunteers.cahnrs.wsu.edu/> OR just e-mail Beth at beth.wangen@wsu.edu with your monthly totals (up to a year's worth!), and we'll report your hours for you!

What's New in 4-H Volunteer Education?

New volunteers nowadays have different online training modules than those of you who became certified before January of this year. If you're curious to see what the newbies are getting, you are welcome to see it all at <https://campus.extension.org> The "enrollment key" you'll need for the orientation modules and/or the financial management video is SNOHOMISH. If you'd like to watch "Put the Child First" (not new), use SNOHOMISH4H.

Donate Blood If You Can

Local blood supplies will continue to need replenishing, and without any blood drives, individual appointments are the only way. If you can give, please do. <https://www.bloodworksnw.org/> Thank you.
