SMITHSONIAN NATIONAL ZOO!

Hello 4-H Community!

I am fond of animals. One of my favorite TV channels growing up was Animal Planet, and I loved watching the Crocodile Hunter! Spring is usually a great time to visit parks and zoo's to check out awesome animals, but that is a bit of a challenge for us when we are staying home! However, there are so many parks and zoos that have stepped up to provide us with great virtual content to enjoy until we can go out in person.

One great example is the Smithsonian's National Zoo & Conservation Biology Institute. Their online educational content is great, and includes a Virtual Zoo School and awesome animal web cams!

I encourage you all to check out this great resource and web-search your favorite zoo or national park, as the amazing staff at these locations might be doing some great videos or online content to keep us connected!

Check back next week for another virtual tool or experience!
