Songaia Co-housing Community Garden	Bothell 22401 39th St. SE., Bothell, WA 98021	Other	The garden began as a small organic garden plot more than 25 years ago and has evolved into an important focus of our work towards sustainable community. In 2010 the community members took a field trip to the Bullock Family Permaculture Homestead on Orcas Island and then began to orient the garden development along Permaculture lines. We began studying and applying permaculture principles to the garden including shifting our orchard plantings into food forests and using permaculture techniques such as hugelkultur and keyhole designs. We donate a small amount of the food we grow to the local food banks.	Garden Manager - Patricia Newkirk - patricia@songaia.com	www.songaia.com	community residents

Charles Street Community Garden	Everett (Port Gardner Neighborhood) Federal Avenue at Charles St, Everett, WA	Community	On City undeveloped Right of Way, developed via funding by city matching grant from City of Everett to Port Gardner Neighborhood, built in 2008-2009. Has 22 raised bed boxes on a terraced slope, with common area blueberries, strawberries and raspberries, compost bin and shed. Community managed. Our Pea Patch is for neighborhood residents to participate in, gather for community events and gives our local elementary school an education opportunity for their students. They currently assist with 4 plots out of 22. Our garden is located on the corner of Charles St and Federal Ave in Everett. We do encourage visitors to come by and look and in fact it's right on a major sidewalk and along a pathway so it's hard not to notice it but we don't promote picking any produce of course, just because most of us do eat what we grow so it's a big deal. St. Michael's Catholic Church, (Garden of Abundance)	Snohomish 1512 Pine Ave Snohomish, WA	Church	The St. Michael Community Garden was started in 2009 as part of the SnoGrow program. SnoGrow is an initiative of churches of all denominations and garden Clubs in Snohomish who cooperate to grow produce for the food banks in the Community.  The project at St. Michaels was funded by a grant from the Master Gardeners Association of Washington and the Archdiocese of Seattle with funds from the annual "Rice Bowl" collection. The garden was also fortunate to have the fencing and arbor erected by Kevin Iverson as his Eagle Scott community project. We continue to receive modest grants from the Rice Bowl collection each year.	smpgardenangels@comcast.net administrator@stmichaelsnohomish.org	http://www.st-michaels-snohomish.com/garden.html	**
