

Defamation, disinformation, and democracy

Thursday, Feb. 27 | 12pm

Foley Speaker's Room | 308 Bryan Hall

The potential revisiting of New York Times v. Sullivan has raised questions about the constitutional significance of freedom of the press and its effect on democracy. What are the implications of the recent wave of high-profile defamation suits?

Ronnell Andersen Jones is a University Distinguished Professor and Teitelbaum Chair in Law at the University of Utah.