A NOTE FROM TONI

Happy New 4-H Year!

The leaves are turning; it is time to start thinking about a new 4-H year and new 4-H projects. Finally, we are meeting in person! Are you looking forward to meeting again and seeing new faces at your club meetings?

Yes, there are still zoom options. Zoom will keep us safe so we live to do more 4-H. No more driving on dark and stormy nights. Take advantage of the zoom weekend sessions for youth. Washington State 4-H is celebrating National Arts and Humanity Month with zoom projects for youth.

Check out the project choices 4-H offers in science and technology. You will be sure to find something of interest. The Washington State 4-H website 4h.wsu.edu has a complete list of projects. Cardboard animals will be there by spring. Starting on a new project at the beginning of the year is a worthy endeavor. Club members have all year to complete the new adventure. Remember the county fair is only ten months away!

It is time to put last year away and move to the future. Don't mourn over the past or brood about the future. Just live each experience one moment at a time. Live like a member, every second holds the promise of a new adventure. 4-H is often the resource of these adventures.

Do something daring this year, like making your educational posters at next months' meeting or visiting our local butcher for a lesson. Dig in the mud or learn to use a power drill; there are few limits on learning.

Happy New Clover Year - Make the best of it!

-Toni

QUALITY ASSURANCE CLASS FOR YOUTH LIVESTOCK SALE AT FAIR

-Submitted by Toni Gwin

Every market livestock member's goal is to grow the best table meat possible and sell at a profit. For many youth this is their summer job. 4-H and FFA members in Pacific County are already beginning to prepare for the 2023 livestock auction.

Has your child always wanted to sell in the ring? The first steps are joining 4-H or FFA and completing a quality assurance class. The purpose of the class is to help youth better understand what they can do to produce the safest food possible using ethical, safe and healthy methods.

Want to learn more? All interested youth and their parents/guardians are invited to attend a quality assurance class on October 19, 2022 at 5:30PM in the Pacific County Fair office in Menlo. While your child completes the class, join local market livestock leaders to learn what it takes to support your youth as they get to the ring.

Please share this information with anyone who may be interested in joining the market livestock project this year.
