

WESTERN REDCEDAR DIEBACK

- Western redcedar are critical to the livelihood of our forests and communities.
- Many reports of dieback have been shared recently.
- The Western Redcedar Dieback Map project was designed to identify vulnerable areas.
- Get involved to help advance knowledge about the factors impacting western redcedars.

For more information :

ForestHealth.org/map

Add observations to the 'Western Redcedar Dieback Map' project on iNaturalist.

