

Faculty and Student Mental Health Issues in a Time of COVID-19 Stress

November 19

1:00-3:00 PM

Dr. Ian Kellems

Director of Counseling & Psychological Services at Oregon State University

Bonnie Hemrick

MPH Assistant Director for Mental Health Program at Oregon State University

Megan Kennedy

Director of the University of Washington Resilience Lab and Co-Chair of the UW Student Well-Being Collaborative

Dr. Lara Hilton

Director for the University of Southern California's Center for Work and Family Life

Join us on November 19 from 1:00- 3:00 PM Pacific time for an expert-led discussion on faculty and student mental health. Our expert panelists will present on what has happened on their respective PAC-12 campus for faculty and students over the past two years. After the presentations, all participants will be encouraged to ask questions and talk to each other about best practices for mental health provisions for faculty and students in the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Use the following Zoom link to join the session: <https://oregonstate.zoom.us/j/95695048979?pwd=cnpFUGN6T2NrQ3VGWjdqcWk0eGcydz09>

Accommodations for disabilities may be made by contacting Dwaine Plaza at 541-737-5369 or email: dplaza@oregonstate.edu