

Chris Whelan

Business Development Manager, North America
Henkel Corporation
Port Coquitlam, British Columbia
Canada

Loctite-Purbond adhesives from Henkel, one of the global pioneers in the development of single component polyurethane adhesives for engineered wood. With the ever changing world of innovative wood products, along with constantly evolving global certification demands, Henkel/Purbond has kept pace through constant innovation. I will review the history of Loctite-Purbond Adhesives and why they offer an important future for the wood industry, as well as discuss new advancement in Loctite-Purbond adhesive formulations.